

SING FOR ME

Sing for me, infect me the freedom
It's necessary behind the walls in this hell
Sing for me, bring me closer to the human beings
In every story, every chord and every verse.

Sing for me and never stop searching,
And don't get tired of living, and don't surrender without fighting
Sing for me, and never forget that your voice defeats the silence.

Sing for me, I'll listen to you in the solitude
Of the one who knows himself being defeated by his fears
Sing for me, and tell the rest of the people
That every strike makes you stronger inside you

Sing for me and give me reasons to walk,
Suggest yourself a new future, involve me in the everything freely given
Sing for me, and never forget that your voice defeats the silence

Sing, sing... just sing.

Sing for me, because it's necessary to find out
That "what I am" and "where I go" it's what I want.
Sing for me, and don't leave me to forget
That some time ago I dreamed your dreams too.

Sing for me and never stop searching,
And don't get tired of living, and don't surrender without fighting
Sing for me, and never forget that your voice defeats the silence.

Sing for me and give me reasons to walk,
Suggest yourself a new future, involve me in the everything freely given
Sing for me, and never forget that your voice defeats the silence

Sing, sing... just sing.

Sing what you are, sing what you hope, sing what you love...

...and even if it's with a lump in the throat...sing,
and even if it seems to you that nobody listens anything ...sing,
...and even if you feel that your power is not strong enough...sing.
